

GUIDELINES FOR DETERMINING FACULTY TENURE REVIEW AND PROBATIONARY END DATES
FOR C-BASIS FACULTY WHO START DURING THE YEAR

If the begin date of the appointment is between March 15 and November 14, the individual must be reviewed for tenure by the end of Semester II, six years later (or adjusted for prior service, an approved extension, or pro-rated according to percent-time). The actual probationary end date would be at the end of Semester II, seven years later (or adjusted for prior service, an approved extension, or pro-rated according to percent-time).

Example: Start date 4/1/95 Tenure review by end of Sem. II 2000/01
Probationary end date -- End of Sem. II 2001/02

If the begin date of the appointment is between November 15 and March 14, the individual must be reviewed for tenure by the end of Semester I, six years later (or adjusted for prior service, an approved extension, or pro-rated according to percent-time). The actual probationary end date would be at the end of Semester I, seven years later (or adjusted for prior service, an approved extension, or pro-rated according to percent-time).

Example: Start date 12/1/95 Tenure review by end of Sem. I, 2001/02
Probationary end date -- End of Sem. I 2002/03

Resources for finding these official dates for future academic years include the following:

<http://www.bussvc.wisc.edu/ecbs/uw1086-cover.html>

(ECBS Academic Payroll Calendars - includes semester I end/semester II begin dates, separated by an asterisk within January)

<http://www.secfac.wisc.edu/acadcal/index.htm>

(Secretary of the Faculty - Academic Calendar - includes only academic year faculty contract dates)